ay probably will remain as r until a successor is named. ay said he was not ready at this time to reveal his future plans, adding that he had learned from a navy admiral during World war II "that it was good form to never complain and never explain. I am sure that my next tour of duty will be pleasant and full of activity."

Murray has been under fire from various sportsmen's groups for more than a year. Southwestern Idaho sportsmen touched off the criticism with complaints that more than 900 deer had starved in Garden valley for lack of a feeding program. The charge led to several different investigations, abolition of the old fish and game commission and creation of a new one.

"I personally regret that we are losing Mr. Murray," Raymer said in a prepared statement. "I hope that in the future the commission will back the director 100 per cent and if it proves incapable that he will

Russian Soldiers Die for Riot Role

BERLIN, July 2 (AP)—Eighteen Russian soldiers died in front of Soviet firing squads for refusing to shoot anti-communist Germans during the June 17 riots, it was reported today.

The west Berlin Telegraf reported the executions followed a mutiny by the Russian soldiers in the Soviet zone town of Magdeburg, scene of a violent uprising against oppressive red rule.

It was the first indication that Russian soldiers as well as German workers defied communist orders during last month's revolt.

The reported Russian executions brought to at least 80 the number of persons who have fallen before Russian rifles in the course of the revolt. At least 50,000 Germans have been reported under arrest.

Allied officials were unable immediately to confirm the Telegraf report, but they said that recently-arrived Russian deserters had reported widespread unrest in the Soviet occupation army.

Telegraf said the executed soldiers not only refused to fire on anti-communists who broke into the Magdeburg prison to free political prisoners, but also refused to arrest Germans who convinced them they were merely trying to better their living conditions.

The 18 soldiers were executed over the week-end at a Soviet army camp near Magdeburg, the newspaper said.

Slot Devices Ruled 'Unconstitutional' By District Court

GOODING, July 2 (AP)—District Judge D. H. Sutphen held Idaho's slot machine law constitutional Wednesday, and Atty. Gen. Robert E. Smylie promised Thursday to appeal to the supreme court.

"The state will appeal the case in order to present the supreme court with the opportunity to pass upon this constitutional question of extreme public interest and importance," Smylie said in Boise.

Such an appeal would provide the court a clear-cut opportunity to say whether slot machines are lotteries, and therefore illegal under Idaho's constitution. No such opinion has been given since slot machines were legalized on a local option basis in 1947.

The attorney general's office is defending the action of the state clerk of the house of representatives in an Ada county case which challenges the legality of the last legislature's decision to outlaw slots, Jan. 1.

Explains Ruling

"The calling of a slot machine an 'amusement device' does not change its character and neither the legislature nor the city can by declaration a scheme or device 'to be gambling' not a lottery," Judge Sutphen character or avoid the CONSTITUTIONAL inhibitions against lotteries," Sutphen ruled.

His decision came in denying the state's claim against the city of Gooding to recover $7,310, alleged owed it for slot machine operations from Jan. 1, 1949, to Sept. 30, 1952, collected at Hall Tire Co.

Under Gooding's licensing system the city collected half of the $100 take of each slot machine. It collected $150 per machine per year for the state.

In August, 1950, the judge's decision said, the city clerk embezzled $7,070 from the city. The state and city commissioners knew nothing about the shortage until audited by the state auditor in March, 1951. The state then sued the city for what it claimed as its share.

U.S. Envoy Drafts New Plans In Attempt to Break Deadlock

SEOUL, Korea, Friday, July 3 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower's personal envoy is drafting proposals in an attempt to break the deadlock between the United States and South Korea, President Syngman Rhee on armistice terms, it was made known today.

Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, the President's envoy, is expected to offer the proposals to Rhee this morning. Rhee's latest note to Robertson failed to break the deadlock—even tightened it.

* * * *

But there were indications that negotiations were in the "horse trading" stage and there might be a break soon.

With Rhee still holding out, there were two new developments calculated to embarrass the United Nations truce negotiations with the communists:

France Frees Army

1. It was disclosed that France has freed—and sent to Formosa—24,000 Chinese nationalist troops who had been interned there since late 1949.

2. It was disclosed in Pusan that about 1,900 North Korean prisoners freed by Rhee have volunteered for service in the South Korean army and the nationalist police.

Writes New Stand

The 78-year-old South Korean leader wrote out his latest stand on his terms for an armistice in Korea after Robertson had accused him of agreeing verbally to a truce and then demanding additional concessions.

Disclosures that Rhee had not veered from his demand for a 90-day time limit on a post-armistice political conference on Korean unity and a mutual security pact did not

North Korean Troops Enlist In ROK Army

PUSAN, Korea, July 2 (U.P.)—About 1,000 North Korean war prisoners freed by President Syngman Rhee have volunteered to serve in the South Korean fighting forces, reliable sources said today.

The prisoners volunteered for service either in the army or in the national police who are fighting red guerrillas in South Korea.

Cheer Rhee

The volunteers, easily recognizable as former prisoners, were loaded on to trucks today and taken north, cheering Rhee and the Republic of Korea.

A Korean government spokesman said in Seoul that there is no organized plan to induct the freed men into the army.

"But President Rhee has received petitions written in blood from thousands of former prisoners asking that they be allowed to fight against the communists," the spokesman said.

[illegible] have protests [illegible] pacts [illegible] have alleged he intended to put them into the army. The spokesman denied this.

"Most of the men will be used in rural areas, where manpower is sorely needed," the spokesman said. "Others will be later absorbed in our expanding industry."

"The neighborhood chief came to me and said I could fill out an application (to join the army)...one prisoner said. "At 15 I naturally because it was my long wish to fight the arch-enemy, communism."

Rupert's Annual July Fourth Event Started

RUPERT, July 2—Rupert's annual Fourth of July celebration got under way Thursday with 63 entrants, half of them from Idaho, entered for the rodeo which will be held daily through Saturday.

A Hollywood cowboy, Lawson Fore, took top honors at the rodeo last year and Idaho cowboys are out to take the title back. The 24th rodeo will get under way at Posse park at 8 p.m. A mammoth fireworks display at Lake Walcott Sunday will put the lid on the four-day festivities.

This week a host of the west's top cowboys arrived under sunny skies to brighten prospects for a good opening crowd. The Thursday night opener is "family night," with children under 12 admitted free if accompanied by their parents.

A full list of competitive rodeo events will be on the program all three nights, with cowhands competing for $2,625 in purses, $575 day money and $125 event money. All stock is furnished by Earl Hutchison's Hillside ranch, Gannett.

Hutchison said that much of the stock is new and fresh from Texas. In addition to the competition, some extra events have been added such as a trick horse and a herd of trained Brahma bulls.

A carnival at Lincoln school grounds in downtown Rupert is set up and operating.

One of the finest street parades in the long history of the event is

Union Hold on Hawaii's Life Told in Senate

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A youthful Hawaiian Republican leader said today that Harry Bridges' "communist-dominated" longshoremen's union has a grip on Hawaii's economic life because it controls the labor of essential industries.

B. P. Dillingham, a member of the territorial senate, told the senate labor committee the influence of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union would not be eliminated if Hawaii is granted statehood. But he said it "has nothing to do with whether we are ready for statehood."

Dillingham criticized business leaders of Hawaii for attempting to "get along" with the ILWU even after the union's Hawaiian boss, Jack Hall, was among seven convicted on communist charges last month. He charged that Hawaii's "only leadership is communist," but that the rank and file union members are not.

Dillingham, testifying in favor of house-passed legislation to make Hawaii the 49th state, was confronted by Sen. George A. Smathers, D., Fla., with a telegram from his father, Walter Dillingham, opposing statehood at this time. The elder Dillingham's opposition is based on the influence of the ILWU.

One portion of the elder Dillingham's telegram said the union is able to dictate the policies of some large corporations through the fear of labor "reprisals."

Reciprocal Trades Amendment Given

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Nine senators Thursday offered an amendment to the reciprocal trade bill designed to set up a more effective method of restricting farm commodity imports when they damage home producers.

The proposal was the first major flare-up over the senate began debate on the bill carrying out President Eisenhower's request for a year's extension of the trade agreements act.

The amendment would permit the President to impose 50 per cent duties and also import quotas in case he finds that imports of a farm commodity are depressing the domestic price.

Books Close on Spending by Truman, Roosevelt Totalling Over 535 Billion

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—When the books closed on 20 years of new deal-fair deal government financing, Harry S. Truman had broken all records for collecting and spending the people's money.

He had eight years, less two and a mil months, in the White House. Mr. Truman budgeted the collection of more than 373 billion dollars in taxes and the spending of roughly 400 billion. His records should stand for some time.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was not even a good second. Most of world war II spending is charged to FDR, but he laid out only 375 billion of the people's money in 12 White House years. His tax take was a mere 162 billion, although it seemed to be quite a package when it was being extracted from the public's pockets.

The books closed on FDR and HST at midnight June 30 when fiscal 1953 ended. The budget for fiscal 1953 was presented to congress by Mr. Truman in January, 1952. When the Republicans began to take over a year later, the tax and spending pattern for fiscal 1953 was fixed.

Little effort was made by the new administration to reduce the flow of money in and out of the treasury in the expiring fiscal year. President Eisenhower and his aides concentrated, instead, on remodeling the Truman budget for fiscal 1954, which began yesterday.

They have not achieved enough so far to prevent another big budget deficit next June 30 when fiscal 1954 ends. The treasury announced yesterday that the 1953 fiscal deficit was a staggering $9,389,000,000, unmatched in any previous peacetime year. The national debt had soared to $266,071,000,000.

The government spent $74,807,000,000, also a peacetime record.

The eye-popping figure among those released by the treasury was the 12-month tax take in fiscal 1953. The taxpayers contributed $63,216,000,000, which is the greatest sum ever extracted by the government from the people in any previous year, peace or war.

Fiscal 1952 had the previous record with a tax take of $60,130,000,000. The 1953 tax record is likely to stand for some time because individual income taxes are scheduled by law to be reduced by about 11 per cent next January. The corporation excess profits tax expired with the fiscal year, although the administration is hopeful that congress will revive it for six months.

The combined Roosevelt-Truman tax collection over 20 years to the end of fiscal 1953 was $535,300,000,000. They spent about 775 billion dollars, while it cost approach the place where billions no longer would be big enough to describe the sum involved.

Speaker Sees Long Fight to Remain Free

Americans must prepare themselves for long and sustained effort to maintain freedom of man in the present world situation, Ernest Ragland, superintendent of schools, told Kiwanis club members Thursday noon as he spoke during the club's observance of Independence day.

Ragland said democracy is at the most crucial point in its modern day career "and we here may live to see monsters like Hitler rise . . . in fact we may be seeing it now."

The superintendent, who was introduced by Leonard Jacobs, program chairman for the day, recalled the early history of the nation and pointed out that on July 4 it will be just 177 years ago that the Declaration of Independence was signed.

Ragland then said, "the spirit of men of a free man has weathered the Civil war and two world wars yet 'once again our system faces possible disaster.'"

He told of the part schools play in equipping children to carry on freedom and praised the work being done by teachers and officials of the local system.

Turning to the building program now under way in Twin Falls, he said he is "encouraged" with progress on the new high school and expressed the opinion that it would be ready for use this fall "and we will be able to build and equip it with the funds we have."

Prior to Ragland's talk, President Kenneth Montgomery reported briefly on the New York City Kiwanis International convention which he attended. He said it was the largest convention ever staged by Kiwanis.

The regular directors' meeting was set for Wray's cafe next Wednesday at 6:15 p.m.

Council Sees July 4 Traffic Mark of 290

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—The Fourth of July celebration this week-end may claim 290 lives in traffic accidents, the National Safety council warned today.

The council estimated roads will be jammed with 40 million vehicles which will travel about four billion miles using 270 million gallons of gasoline in the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

Because the holiday period extends only over two days, this year's casualties are expected to be fewer than in 1952 when the independence celebration extended from Thursday evening to Sunday night.

At the close of the holiday week-end last year, the nation counted 356 dead in traffic, 178 drownings, two dead from fireworks and 79 miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 613 accidental deaths.

GOP Entrenches for Air Force Fund Row

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—House Republican leaders leaned heavily Thursday on a direct appeal by President Eisenhower to beat back a Democratic attempt to boost the air force budget.

And Democrats counted confidently on a public roll call vote to counterbalance the Eisenhower appeal.

The showdown is due late Thursday when the house votes finally on a bill to appropriate $34,434,740,500 in new funds for the army, navy and air force for the fiscal year which started Wednesday.

The big issue is whether the house should add $1,175,000,000 to the $31,048,000,000 recommended by the appropriations committee for the air force.

The extra money, provided in a series of amendments drafted by Representative Mahon, D., Tex., is the amount Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, retired air force chief of staff, has said is the minimum needed to attain a goal of 143 air force wings by 1957.

The committee and most house Republicans are supporting the Eisenhower-backed 120-wing air force.

The committee cut $40 million dollars from the revised Eisenhower air force budget. The bill carries $6,030,000,000—less than was asked in the budget submitted last January by former President Truman.

Eisenhower reiterated his personal endorsement of the air force budget in a letter Wednesday to Representative Scriver, R., Kans., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that wrote the bill.

immediately replaced. The department must be operated to the best interests of all of the people of Idaho and nonresidents who hunt and fish in our state. We cannot be governed by a small minority group or politicians who wish to use the game department as a political ladder."

Larry Lowery, state director of the Idaho Outdoors association, commented that Murray's resignation "is something the IOA has been working for since 1949."

Harold (Bud) Jones, secretary of the Idaho Wildlife federation, said the fish and wildlife of the state have benefited during Murray's administration, adding "I hope the chairman of the state of Idaho will be a little more considerate of his successor."

Murray's resignation came the day after three commission members met in Boise at the "informal conference" to make plans for the July 27 meeting. Attending the session were Raymer; Ray J. Holmes, Twin Falls, and Glenn Stanger, Idaho Falls.

Applications for the game director's job will be accepted at the game department headquarters in Boise, Raymer said.

Dr. Gabrielson, manager of the wildlife management institute of Washington, D. C., will meet with the commission soon "to assist in setting up the department on a top business like level," Raymer said. Gabrielson's group made a study of Idaho's game management program last autumn and suggested certain revisions in the departmental organization.

Raymer lauded Murray's administration saying "the general program of the department has been one of steady progress and development." Murray has been director since April, 1947, since that time the department has doubled in size, the production of legal sized elk has increased five times, and the annual big game kill has doubled. Raymer said.

Some sportsmen's groups criticized Murray for the Union Involved late purchase of land for a bird refuge at Mud lake in Jefferson county. The land formerly belonged to Murray, Lee Parkinson of Boise bought and recently sold it, causing a strict court asking that the sale be set aside and seeking $16,000 damages from Murray. The suit contended that was Murray's profit on the transaction.

Escapees Raid Supply Dumps

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, July 2 (AP)—Armed escapees of American supply dumps near Inchon were identified tentatively today as North Korean war prisoners recently released by Syngman Rhee.

Police said 13 men entered an American division quartermaster area three days ago and fired at least one carbine shot at an American sentry.

The official explanation of the incident by the unit's criminal investigation division was "attempted looting."

The armed gang was not identified officially as Koreans, but a military police officer said he is convinced the raiders were some of the 7,000 North Koreans who broke out of allied compounds on Rhee's orders.

Authorities reported a similar raid in which one man's leg was shot open from hip to knee when discovered an intruder rummaging through his possessions inside his tent.

Court Counts Idaho's Slots Violate Laws

The city argued it was not liable for the money because, among other reasons, the slot machine law was unconstitutional and contrary to the criminal code.

Sutphen cited recent opinions by Federal Judge Chase A. Clark and Ada county District Judge M. Oliver Koelsch that the local option slot machine law is unconstitutional.

"Slot machines such as have been operating in Gooding pay off in money and offer no element of skill or amusement to the players, other than the rather dubious amusement incidental to pure chance," he said.

". . . We cannot escape the fact that slot machines such as have been allowed to operate in Idaho since 1947 do constitute a habitual and almost ever present lure to the gambling instinct of our people and are to be found in almost every city and village in the state. With very few exceptions, their operation involves large sums of money . . ."

He denied the state's claim since it was, he said, based "entirely on money had and received . . . under a gambling transaction illegally had under a void statute and city ordinance."

Woman Is Injured In Cassia Mishap

BURLEY, July 2—Mrs. Dwight Morrison, 35, route 4, Burley, is in the Cottage hospital as a result of an accident at 5:45 p. m. Wednesday at a rural intersection one and one-half miles north and three miles east of Burley. She sustained shock in the crash.

Sheriff LePage Layton, who investigated, said all four corners on the intersection are posted with "yield right of way" but not stop signs.

Prosecutor in Area Appeals For "Justice"

his accuser in a written charge against him. After these constitutional rights have been awarded there the court can proceed to see that justice is awarded.

"Justice is something that can only be weighed by the facts and circumstances of each case without which no court should proceed in a conclusion. In cases of guilt, it has always been my feeling that where justice can be exacted by the assessment of a fine, that the taxpayers are entitled to that consideration but a fine assessed for revenue alone is as deplorable as the rest of the procedure of the "kangaroo" court. And where sentence is necessary in order to effect justice that course should be taken.

"Aside from the strict treatment which should be afforded the flagrant or persistent traffic violator, I am wondering if we are not overlooking something in failing to stop the borderline cases in our various communities and handing them a ten-cent-per-mile lesson on our traffic regulations. We have excellent service stations in our town—our restaurants are outstanding,' or whatever the attraction might be, then conclude with, 'We thank you be right but not dead right,' or 'Welcome to our town.'

"Of our population, a very small percentage of our people are traffic violators. A careful traffic procedure requires the cooperation of the public. By far the major portion of traffic violators are willing to admit their error when they are in the wrong and in so doing they in effect agree to cooperate and influence others in so doing; in these instances, they deserve the consideration which is commensurate with such cooperation.

"Let us remember that the long term successful operation of our system lies in creating respect for the laws, the law enforcement officers, the courts, and governing bodies."

Senator Says Reds May OK Korean Unity

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland, R., Calif., believes Russia and red China will accept a unified Korea if the big powers and the United Nations guarantee its neutrality.

Knowland, acting senate majority leader, predicted a "guaranteed neutrality" would have more force than before because of "the changed situation" in the world which finds rebellious peoples behind the iron curtain.

Knowland, who appeared on the American Broadcasting company's "Crossfire" program last night, said "you could get a united Korea whose neutrality is guaranteed by all the great powers, not as a United Nations trusteeship, but as a free nation.

"Russia and China would be reasonably assured that Korea would not be used as a jumping off place for war against them. At the same time we and Japan would have the assurance that Korea would not be used as a jumping off place for aggression against us."

Such proposals should be brought up at the postwar peace conference, Knowland said, adding that even if the plan does not work out, "we would not be any worse off than we are now."

Panel Eyes Code On Boiler Safety

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—An "interim education" boiler safety code today was under advisement by the state industrial accidents board.

A final hearing on the code, drafted by the Idaho chapter of the National Safety council, was held yesterday.

Labor representatives objected because they felt the code was not complete enough.

They said that it should provide authority to set up boiler specifica-

Steve Collins, chairman of Safety council's code committee said that it would take legislative action to give such authority to accidents board.

DRIVER OF THE YEAR!

It's drivers like Pat Burkholder who make the slogan "Knights of the Highway," mean something. Recently named the trucking industry's "Driver of the Year," Pat has driven 1,500,000 miles without a chargeable accident. A Garrett driver for 11 years, Pat also is credited with many acts of heroism while aiding motorists in trouble. We salute Pat as exemplifying the highest attributes of the driving profession.

BERLIN RIOTS SIGNIFICANT

The Russian attempt to blame "western provocateurs" for the widespread uprising of Germans in Soviet Germany sounds almost as a pitiful wail. It gains nothing from being alternated with feeble communist additions that many German complaints are justified.

The Russians really understand that the world knows this was a remarkable demonstration of bare-handed rebellion against oppressive authority—without hope of success. No provocateurs would send men to do battle against tanks with sticks and stones. The riot-and-strike wave fanned out from East Berlin to envelop many other cities, and the reds have been hard-pressed to bring them under control. At last reports, disturbances still were in progress in several cities. Altogether the Russians have arrested some 16,000 individuals for allegedly playing parts in these flare-ups and some feel the total will climb to at least 30,000. Dozens of men have been executed by firing squad, and others killed by Russian tank, burp gun and rifle fire. Even children have been mowed down.

Despite all these cruel reprisals, the Germans have gone on refusing to work, sacking communist offices, scuttling ships, damaging mines and otherwise sowing havoc in the Soviet zone.

It can be no solace to the Russians that the allegedly docile Czechs also stirred in strength against their masters at Pilsen and other centers. And there are reports, too, of trouble in Bulgaria and Rumania.

The Russian is pictured as a great bear whose paws pack a powerful punch and who is yet agile and alert enough to outwit a big enemy. But the Russian is behaving like a dinosaur who feels the ground quaking beneath him and knows no defense but to stamp wildly upon any life that falls beneath his giant feet.

The Germans have disclosed the gilbness of one of the most often-heard of latter-day political axioms: That no people under a modern dictator's yoke dare rise in rebellion. This was no full-scale revolt. But it suggests what might have happened had the Germans thought this the moment for a fight to the death. A comprehensive general strike, coupled with wholesale sabotage and continuous rioting, would be hard to combat. You cannot execute or imprison an entire population of 16 million.

The tremors from the events in East Germany have registered sharply on the seismographs in Moscow. The Russian grasp on the satellite lands has slipped. The effects of this powerful realization upon the men in the Kremlin may be profound for them and for all the world.

GASPERI'S CREAKY MARGIN

As result of the Italian general elections, Premier De Gasperi and his center coalition may be said to have won a creaky working margin in parliament.

It is a sad thing that he came so close to winning much more decisive control. His coalition of parties drew 49.78 per cent of the popular vote in the important chamber of deputies, gaining a narrow 16-seat edge. Had he captured just 50.01 per cent, Italian election law would have given him 64 per cent of the seats.

That advantage would have assured Italy reasonably stable government for the next five years. As it is, it will be touch and go, with De Gasperi having to be on his mettle every step of the way.

His margin in the senate, 14 seats, is no greater comfort.

Yet the disappointment over this outcome must not be allowed to obscure the fact that De Gasperi is in control. With skill and ingenuity, which he most certainly has, he may be able to carry on his programs pretty much as before.

The most vital of these, naturally, is approval of the European defense pact, plus general support of NATO and western policies. No west has no firmer friend than the Italian premier and it would be a serious loss if somehow his hands were to be tied.

TRIP OF NECESSITY

Americans should wish success to the President's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, on his current trip to South America. His goal is better hemispheric relations, and evidently he could use them.

It would be nice to report that while we have, for these many years, been concentrating upon relations with Europe and Asia, our friends in Latin America have developed stronger and stronger love for us and today are bosom comrades in all the trials which beset the western countries. But this isn't so.

The "good neighbor" policy has languished of neglect. Meantime Dictator Peron has sowed seeds of distrust of America, and the pay communist conspirators have further blamed natural jealousies that exist in many lands.

The Eisenhower mission is thus far more than a pleasant "goodwill" journey. It is a necessity if we are to buttress the solid hemispheric front we should present to the troubled continents of Asia and Europe.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Gov. Frank G. Clement, of Tennessee, has been conducting a nationwide lobby drive for federal funds for the Tennessee valley authority that matches the high-pressure practices so frequently charged against the nation's greatest corporations. Governor Clement, who has not registered as a special pleader seeking to influence legislation, as provided by law, the chief executive of Andrew Jackson's state has not limited his begging letters to members of congress in his effort to force the senate to restore $1 million dollars of TVA appropriations eliminated by the house. He has tried to mobilize the members of state legislatures throughout the country, urging them to bring pressure on congress.

He denounces the "power lobbyists" as responsible for the cuts, which, he adds, will "paralyze" the Tennessee valley and "cripple" its natural resources. In letters to politicians and local legislators of a similar stripe, he begs them to "come to the rescue of the Tennessee valley."

FURTHER ACTIVITIES—But the Clement promotion of larger appropriations for his area embraces even more extensive activities. The Tennessee railroad and utilities commission has implored similar agencies in every state to memorialize congress in favor of more money than the house has allowed. Many have responded favorably, but quite a number of recipients of these pantmailing entreaties have denounced them as "shameful and humiliating."

Governor Clement, unfortunately for him, important state legislators unknown to him, obtaining their names from an official volume published by the council of state governments.

In several instances, he wrote to industrialists and public utility representatives, who agree with President Eisenhower that TVA is an example of "creeping socialism." Their replies are hardly printable.

ANOTHER TVA LOBBY—In addition to these operations directed by Governor Clement, there is another TVA lobby active here. It is known as the Tennessee Valley Public Power association. It is financed by the municipalities and cooperatives in the area which benefit from "cheap power."

The Washington office is headed by Sam A. O'Neal, former congressman and now publicity director of the Democratic national committee during the Hannegan regime. Although O'Neal receives only a relatively small fee as Washington lobbyist's charges go—$10,000 a year—he does only part-time work.

DEMAND FOR INQUIRY EXPECTED—Ironically, although Clement began his letter-writing propaganda on May 1, his tactics became known on the very day when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., of New York demanded that the department of justice and internal revenue bureau investigate the alleged lobbying work of five New York utilities in the controversy over development of power on the Niagara river.

It is understood that when the dispute over TVA appropriations reaches the senate floor, there will be a similar demand for an inquiry into Governor Clement's methods calculated to interfere in national legislative procedure.

BASEBALL TOPS GOLF ON HILL—Although President Eisenhower is the most enthusiastic and lowest-scoring White House golfer since Warren G. Harding, baseball remains the most popular sport with members of congress.

Many are too old to play 18 or even nine holes of golf a day. Younger members can't afford the time or the money for golf. All can pay a few bucks to watch a baseball game at Griffith stadium, although our team is hardly worth watching this year.

But this is not the only interesting congressional regard for the national game has politico-legal significance. If the justice department's indictment of baseball as a monopoly should be upheld by the supreme court, thereby outlawing the essential reserve clause, congress will immediately reverse the supreme court by special legislation.

It is doubtful if the high tribunal would declare baseball to be an illegal monopoly. A majority are fans which derive from "Napoleon" Roberts, the late Justice Fred Vinson was a semi-pro diamond star in his younger days. They will probably hold that baseball is above the law!

VIEWS OF OTHERS

ELLIS ISLAND PRISONER

A single red rose can be more exquisite than a whole hedge of roses. An injustice involving one human being can arouse more sympathy than the sufferings of thousands, perhaps because it is within the frame of understanding of fellow humans.

The case of Ellen Knauff, the German-born war bride of an American soldier, held on Ellis Island more than seven months, is such a case. Its ending, of 1951, dramatized bureaucratic stupidity more than hundreds of other cases of more outrageous discrimination.

Attorney General Brownell has properly stepped in before Ellen Island prisoner number 76 becomes a cause celebre. Announcing his office will review the case, he promised, "You can be sure justice will be tempered with mercy in this department."

The case involves one Ignatz Mezei, obscure little Polish, by birth, baker, who would have been unheard of had he not tried to get to his dying mother's bedside in 1948. Back in 1923 he had entered the U. S. illegally from his native Hungary. He was detained in Hungary while trying to reach his mother five years ago. In the interim, the ominous war-wife, a naturalized American, and formally married her. Then he petitioned for re-entry into the U. S. as the husband of an American. He got as far as Ellis Island, where he was denied entry. Twice he was put on a ship, Buenos Aires bound, but twice refused to take a man considered dangerous to this country.

After two years of "imprisonment" he got out on bond, but recently the supreme court ruled, 5 to 4, that he can be kept on Ellis Island indefinitely. Unless attorney general Brownell intervenes, Ignatz Mezei will be a "man without a country."

Why is little Ignatz Mezei being held? Perhaps it is because he once belonged to the International Workingmen's Order—branded as subversive in recent years by the attorney general. The organization refused to say what the charges are. If there is a security case against him, why not say what it is?

We hope that Mr. Brownell will remove this case from the area of doubt and inhumanity.—Salt Lake Tribune

LONG DELAYED ACTION

Senator Dworshak's vigorous reaction to an address made by Leon Fields, Boise regional manager of the Veterans administration, is as refreshing as the evening breeze. Too many caustic remarks are made against members of congress by officials of federal agencies that required attention but were left for the record.

Mr. Fields did nothing more than express the opinion that "never in the history of our country has the subject of veterans' affairs been in such a critical and uncertain state as they are now." The regional director saw the present economy drive in Washington as the cause.

The Idaho senator, who happens to be a member of the appropriations committee, seems to have discounted Mr. Fields' warning by questioning the actuating administrator of the VA, who admitted that Mr. Fields' reasoning was false. Furthermore, the VA head man admitted that Mr. Fields' statements was "very disturbing." An investigation is to be made by the VA into the utterances of the Boise regional director.

This particular incident is of no disturbing proportions in itself but the fact that Senator Dworshak challenged what are now proven unjustified accusations by a federal agency official is what counts. These men are making false charges for years and getting away with them. It is high time they are called to the mast, not only as a matter of halting vicious propaganda aimed at higher expenditure of federal funds, but also as a method in getting the public some of the facts for a change.

No single step in Washington would contribute so much to curing all federal officials to be responsible for the facts when they have occasion to address the public. There would be a lot less oratory if this was the arrangement.—Boise Statesman.

POT SHOTS

WHAT DOES SHE WANT?

Dear Pots:

For many moons, the Little Woman has been giving me a bad time because of a steadily expanding waistline. I have been answering her with flattering comments about how good her cooking tastes. She can't really answer, that!

Then the other night she put her arms around me, exclaimed, "Why honey, you're getting skinny!"

Yes, it was a definite change and caught me with my guard down, but the Little Woman didn't follow up her advantage. I still don't know what she wants—yet.

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

ANENT GASOLINE

Mrs. Pot Shots announced us the other day and we wounded up in possession of the family jalopy just when the gas gauge needle was bumping against rock bottom. We like to be fiscally fair about those things, especially because Mrs. Pot Shots manages to outmaneuver us only about once a month.

We pulled into a filling station attendant to fill the tank, sat there watching the figures whirling up to $4.44. For that size of a purchase, we figured we were entitled to a clean windshield. While the attendant used some sort of cleaner and a good deal of energy, another car drove up on the other side of the row of gas pumps.

A young fellow hopped out of the car, fiddled around with a gas pump. The attendant cleared the gadget for him. Then the young fellow gasolined-up his car, filled the tank until it reached the 50-cent marker. He dug a half dollar out of his pocket, handed it to the attendant.

I was conscious all last year that a man who would so well satisfy the New York Times, the Herald Tribune, the Washington Post, and Henry Luce with their lurking left-wing predilections in the anti-Republican For that matter, didn't Jimmy Roosevelt come on from California in 1948 drooling for Ike against Truman? Does anybody doubt that Truman is highly annoyed Ike's revealed politics as to take him up the mountain, as Arthur Krock wrote in 1952, and promise him the rest, residue and remainder of our country, if he should finish his ridiculous works?

Our Republican candidate kicked us right in the teeth a few days after inauguration by choosing for his cabinet Charley Wilson, reputed an estimable lady but a Democrat nevertheless, and Martin Durkin, the president of the Plumbers' union, who actually supported Stevenson and opposed our man Ike in the campaign. In the case of Mrs. Hobby, Ike's excuse was that she was a member of his Texas auxiliary. But are we real Republicans supposed to make fellowship with that bunch of opportunists merely because they finally got sick of the two destroyers whom they had helped to inflict on our country for five presidential terms? Durkin ought to serve a period of probation, like freshmen on a campus, before they are allowed to put on our pin. They can emote but can't play the game.

For the Durkin deal there is not the slightest excuse. His union's typical AFL character was well expressed in Nevada where Ralph Alla, a murderous gunman and habitual jailbird, ruled as local president and conspired with master-plumbers to rob the public in a time-honored way of plumbers' locals, without even a letter of reproof from Durkin. Even Truman's department of justice couldn't stomach this vicious brute and so convicted him for crime, but Durkin kept him on the payroll.

The mocking, calculated insult that Ike fetched all true Republicans in flaunting Dave Dubinsky and his avowed communist political agents, Lovestone and Brown, in our faces is not endearing. If our country must wage espionage and internal violence in more or less friendly nations overseas, in consequence of the very thing that we so bitterly resent when Russia does it to us, then the least that Ike can do is pick Americans who never have diluted their devotion to our constitution nor had any truck with infidels, as Dubinsky has and, at this writing, still does.

It is no nuance to us to be told through the agency of paid national publicists in the gutters of journalism that Ike is convinced that these reds have seen the light. He didn't get a good mark on "intelligence" in France, Russia, Germany, Korea. Knocked him on his trunks under cover of a log at the front and a souse-party at grand headquarters in Paris in honor of a household sergeant's wedding in WWII. If these communists have recanted, Ike should show us chapter and verse and then explain why he throws in with Dubinsky and his union. They are no more entitled to that than Truman. We are not so hard up as a people that we can't find better men who never gave any ground for doubt.

This party of ours doesn't belong to Ike D. Eisenhower, but he might loose it up so badly that the real Republicans, including I would think, the probationers of the southern tier, will let him and his red friends get the damn thing and form another of our own.

A few days ago, Jim Hagerty, who served as Dewey's press secretary in Albany and was Ike's press political shill, had the effrontery to tell reporters in Washington that it was nobody's business who came to dinner. He resented such inquisitiveness and revealed a touching case of Steve Early's pugnacious impudence.

There couldn't be a better time or occasion to put this fellow in his place. Hagerty, were an MSgt., I would order my reporters in Washington to keep away from White House conferences and the White House pressroom and set a 24-hour picket line around to bar Hagerty by that. The beat White House stuff is never printed except belatedly in books as we learned after Roosevelt died. The press associations can cover the press conferences, which are mostly propaganda jobs anyway. One Elliot Roosevelt was enough, but Ike comes along with a brother named Arthur, who now has a writing job, on the basis of facts revealed already.

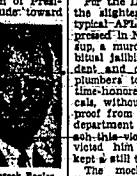
HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Richard Lloyd Jones, the editor of the Tulsa Tribune, is an articulate Republican who needs no coaching in his criticism of President Eisenhower's attitude toward soft-soap and so-called bipartisanship—basic principles of the party.



Westbrook Pegler

But, although he did express a disappointment and almost personal hurt of many Republicans in warning Ike of a prairie-fire sweep of resentment which might result in a wholly new political party, he left out particulars that should be unsaid which ought to be said.

To a Republican of principle, the President's show of favor to Bernard Baruch, in inviting him to dine with one of the politically most erogeneous stag groups at the White House, is a flagrant case in point.

It may have swogged the proposition that Mr. Baruch is an elder statesman years ago but I have a habit of examining such terms to verify them and I now have to file that under Greek mythology. Today Baruch as well as the next one does. He is a friendly gentleman of ripe age, but the cliche about his wisdom cries out for substantiation.

Here is, in my opinion, one such reason for Mr. Ike's show of official favor to a Roosevelt-Truman Democrat who never has embraced the Republican party. Prestige goes with such invitations and it should not go to a Democrat. To be sure, B. M. B. did indicate an intention to vote for Ike but he had a bitter grudge against Truman for writing him that dirty letter in the 1948 campaign.

This hatred was not abated even when Truman went to Barney at Geo. George Marshall's house in Virginia, wheedling for his favor against Ike and came away with dust on his knees. That act degraded the office, for no President should put on a spectacle like that. It is only an incidental observation. The fact which should control here is that Baruch is not a Republican, and never will be one.

Why, then, should Ike, the first Republican President in 20 years, honor Baruch as well as the next one does. He is a friendly gentleman of ripe age, but the cliche about his wisdom cries out for substantiation.

There is, in my opinion, one such reason for Mr. Ike's show of official favor to a Roosevelt-Truman Democrat who never has embraced the Republican party. Prestige goes with such invitations and it should not go to a Democrat. To be sure, B. M. B. did indicate an intention to vote for Ike but he had a bitter grudge against Truman for writing him that dirty letter in the 1948 campaign.

This hatred was not abated even when Truman went to Barney at Geo. George Marshall's house in Virginia, wheedling for his favor against Ike and came away with dust on his knees. That act degraded the office, for no President should put on a spectacle like that. It is only an incidental observation. The fact which should control here is that Baruch is not a Republican, and never will be one.

I was conscious all last year that a man who would so well satisfy the New York Times, the Herald Tribune, the Washington Post, and Henry Luce with their lurking left-wing predilections in the anti-Republican For that matter, didn't Jimmy Roosevelt come on from California in 1948 drooling for Ike against Truman? Does anybody doubt that Truman is highly annoyed Ike's revealed politics as to take him up the mountain, as Arthur Krock wrote in 1952, and promise him the rest, residue and remainder of our country, if he should finish his ridiculous works?

Our Republican candidate kicked us right in the teeth a few days after inauguration by choosing for his cabinet Charley Wilson, reputed an estimable lady but a Democrat nevertheless, and Martin Durkin, the president of the Plumbers' union, who actually supported Stevenson and opposed our man Ike in the campaign. In the case of Mrs. Hobby, Ike's excuse was that she was a member of his Texas auxiliary. But are we real Republicans supposed to make fellowship with that bunch of opportunists merely because they finally got sick of the two destroyers whom they had helped to inflict on our country for five presidential terms? Durkin ought to serve a period of probation, like freshmen on a campus, before they are allowed to put on our pin. They can emote but can't play the game.

For the Durkin deal there is not the slightest excuse. His union's typical AFL character was well expressed in Nevada where Ralph Alla, a murderous gunman and habitual jailbird, ruled as local president and conspired with master-plumbers to rob the public in a time-honored way of plumbers' locals, without even a letter of reproof from Durkin. Even Truman's department of justice couldn't stomach this vicious brute and so convicted him for crime, but Durkin kept him on the payroll.

The mocking, calculated insult that Ike fetched all true Republicans in flaunting Dave Dubinsky and his avowed communist political agents, Lovestone and Brown, in our faces is not endearing. If our country must wage espionage and internal violence in more or less friendly nations overseas, in consequence of the very thing that we so bitterly resent when Russia does it to us, then the least that Ike can do is pick Americans who never have diluted their devotion to our constitution nor had any truck with infidels, as Dubinsky has and, at this writing, still does.

It is no nuance to us to be told through the agency of paid national publicists in the gutters of journalism that Ike is convinced that these reds have seen the light. He didn't get a good mark on "intelligence" in France, Russia, Germany, Korea. Knocked him on his trunks under cover of a log at the front and a souse-party at grand headquarters in Paris in honor of a household sergeant's wedding in WWII. If these communists have recanted, Ike should show us chapter and verse and then explain why he throws in with Dubinsky and his union. They are no more entitled to that than Truman. We are not so hard up as a people that we can't find better men who never gave any ground for doubt.

This party of ours doesn't belong to Ike D. Eisenhower, but he might loose it up so badly that the real Republicans, including I would think, the probationers of the southern tier, will let him and his red friends get the damn thing and form another of our own.

A few days ago, Jim Hagerty, who served as Dewey's press secretary in Albany and was Ike's press political shill, had the effrontery to tell reporters in Washington that it was nobody's business who came to dinner. He resented such inquisitiveness and revealed a touching case of Steve Early's pugnacious impudence.

There couldn't be a better time or occasion to put this fellow in his place. Hagerty, were an MSgt., I would order my reporters in Washington to keep away from White House conferences and the White House pressroom and set a 24-hour picket line around to bar Hagerty by that. The beat White House stuff is never printed except belatedly in books as we learned after Roosevelt died. The press associations can cover the press conferences, which are mostly propaganda jobs anyway. One Elliot Roosevelt was enough, but Ike comes along with a brother named Arthur, who now has a writing job, on the basis of facts revealed already.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Nobody denies that public opinion is a social bulwark that holds us all to a standard of decency and good behavior. What the neighbors say is important to the neighbors of the neighbors and that includes the children and young people. It is, however, difficult to fathom the real opinion of neighbors.

When a troubled parent says to an eager child, ready to explore new territory, "You must not do that. What will the neighbors think?" he is really saying, "You know I don't want you to do this. It can get you talked about and I don't want that to happen to you."

Well, that is the way of all parents, while it is also the way of all young people to experiment with things and people and conditions. If young people did not try out their ability, character, and courage, what then? What would the neighbors say to that? That one. He's not too bright. Never has anything to say for himself.

The long and short of it is that what the neighbors think is usually only imagined. If what the young person does, without benefit of social approval, turns out to be commendable, the neighbors may change their first-held opinions. They may even voice their admiration for what they, at least, were supposed to have frowned upon. It has been my experience that paying too much attention to what someone else says may often check initiative, and the advice offered is valueless.

If a child wants to make some experiment, within reason, if it is feasible, give him a word of warning and a whole sentence of encouragement. Maybe he will make a mistake, but even so he has learned something. Perhaps he discovered he was on the wrong track. However, his initiative has not been curbed and he has learned something.

Some of the neighbors may shake their heads and exercise their tongues, but remember that neighborhood opinion is seldom unanimous. There will be those who sympathize and be ready to help the child or young person. Rely on the most obvious of life's standards that all the neighbors will agree.

Starting while children are young is the secret of developing the correct routines for successful adulthood. Parents give more advice in his leaflet P-14, "Useful Habits." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station O, New York 19, N. Y.

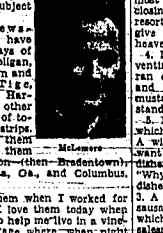
Hank Finds Papers Bargain, Despite Irksome Brain Tests

By HENRY McLEMORE

Is there any animal which eats itself and then brags about it?

You may not know it, but that question has to do with newspapers, and newspapers are my subject for today.



McLemore

I love newspapers, and have since the days of Happy Hooligan, Buster Brown, and his Dog Tige, Hairbreadth Harry, and the other forerunners of today's comic strips.

I loved them when I sold them in Bradenton (then Bradentown), Fla., Atlanta, Ga., and Columbus, S. C.

I loved them when I worked for them, and I love them today when they work to help me live in a vine-covered cottage where, when night falls, the only things to disturb my slumber are the screeching of my brakes, the lonesome call of creditors, and the soothing chirp of the television next door.

I think that for anywhere from three to 10 cents they offer the best buy in the world. Newspapers tell you what is going on next door and on the top of Mt. Everest. If you own a frying pan they'll teach you how to fry, pardon a seed they'll tell you how to make it into a flower. They teach skiing, motoring, civic responsibility, care of pets, care of wife, care of husband, how to shoot, how to lay and take up linoleum, how to become an amateur tree surgeon, and to which stations to listen to get the latest radio and television news which they have furnished.

But I must bite the hand that I love and feeds me. Not the whole hand. Just a little bit. A nibble.

I must get mad at the features which newspapers carry under headings like "How Much Do You Know?" "Test Your Brain," "Carebellum "Teasers" and "Are You Bright?"

You know what I mean. Score five if you miss, ten if you hit; 70 makes you a moron, 80 lets you in a movie without a tie, 90 makes you feel good, and above that no one likes you because you don't drop dime on the street always give your seat to a lady on the subway, and never have considered not going back and returning a dime when a drugstore cashier made a mistake.

I think the people who run these brain sprints are out to make others feel bad. This is no time for that. The world needs all the confidence it can muster. Also, I am quite sure none of these quizmasters know the answers until he makes a bit of research.

I'd like to get them all together and try them on a quiz millions of Americans could cook up with the help of a dictionary or encyclopaedia. Wonder how they'd do on this one of mine? I'll start with question No. 2, because No. 1 was at the head of this column.

2. What city, with a mayor whose middle name is Dickgibson, is closest to the center of gravity?

3. Of these five noises which is most closely associated with the closing of a transom in a summer resort: 1. Yammoh. 2. Ech. 3. Don't give up the ship. 4. Isn't this a heavenly place? 5. Oink.

4. Name the man who, after inventing the four-bladed propeller, ran off with a strip-tease dancer and was discovered practicing the mustard in a Baltimore hot dog stand.

5. In 1754 Joalah Kilps invented which of these useless things:—

A wife who says, "Honey, I don't want you to help me with the dishes." 2. A husband who says: "Why shouldn't I help you with the dishes? I'm stronger than your ma." 3. A leash for dogs made of fresh sausage links. 4. A summer day which suits everyone. 5. A shoe salesman who tells a customer the store doesn't have a color that is his style, size, color, or price.

P. S.: Answers in the near future, upside down.

P. P. S.: Answer to question No. 1: The Smibiaraet, found only in uncharted waters, and then only at 50,000 fathoms.

Power Contract Is Approved by PUC

BOISE, July 2 (U.P.)—The Idaho public utilities commission today approved a contract whereby Idaho Power company will obtain a portion of the output of Utah Power and Light company's planned 100,000-kilowatt steam generating plant at Salt Lake City.

Idaho Power company President T. E. Roach said the agreement would provide an "assured power supply" for its southern Idaho consumers until its Oxbow plant can be put into production if its construction is approved by the federal power commission.

The FPC will hold a hearing in Washington July 7 on Idaho Power's application to build the Oxbow, Hells Canyon and Brownlee dams on Snake river. The three dams would be in the same area that the federal government, under the Truman administration, planned to construct a high Hells canyon dam. Interior Secretary Douglas McKay recently withdrew his department's objections to Idaho Power's Oxbow plant.

The duck was long associated with Aphrodite, and it is believed that "duckie" as a term of affection derives from this fact.

'Ike' Reaffirms Interest in U. S. Farm Problems

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower was reported today as expressing a "continuing interest" in the farm problem. He made the comment in two young Republican leaders when they ventured to him their national organization's plans for campaigning in "close" congressional districts next year.

Sullivan Barnes, Sioux Falls, S. D., chairman, and Miss Marian Smith, Little Rock, Ark., co-chairman of the Young Republican National federation, said they told Eisenhower the federation would concentrate next year in the approximately 80 "marginal" districts —those which either party carried by less than 5 per cent of the total vote.

Barnes said the farm council just created by the federation "recognizes the gap in the thinking of old and young farmers."

He emphasized the part the farm question will play in the 1954 campaign and said 23 of the close districts are in the farm belt.

Victim of Idaho Auto Crash Dies

COEUR D'ALENE, July 2 (U.P.)—Kelton Plank, 45, Clarkston, Wash., died today of injuries received in a head-on week-end automobile crash.

Plank was driving a car involved in an accident Sunday with mate driven by Harold J. Welgand, 20, Spokane.

Plank, his four minor children, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Belle Dorsey, 55, Lewiston, were hospitalized after the accident on U. S. highway 95 about 19 miles south of here. Mrs. Dorsey and Dean Plank, 8, were still in the hospital Wednesday. Dean sustained a broken leg.

Benson Finds Act on Wheat Poor Solution

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson made it clear today that he doesn't think much of the farm law that required him to call for federal controls on next year's wheat crop.

He told reporters that studies by the new administration "have gone far enough" to show there are ways of improving present farm programs, "particularly in regards to wheat."

Plans New Programs

He did not elaborate, but said he hoped to submit his ideas to congress before the year is out. He said they would include "some entirely new" programs and "some much like the present ones."

Meanwhile farm block leaders hoped to speed action on legislation which would amend current wheat quota regulations.

Questions Unanswered

Benson called for marketing quotas on the 1954 crop yesterday, the last day allowed by law for him to announce his decision.

He did so without being able to spell out what the national acreage allotment would be, which farmers will be exempt from controls, or when farmers will vote on whether they want to go along with the restrictions.

If they reject the controls, price supports on wheat would automatically drop from 90 to 50 per cent of parity.

Careful Driving Is Urged on Holiday

BOISE, July 2 (U.P.)—State Police Supt. Alton Bunderson today cautioned Idaho motorists to drive carefully over the July 4 week-end, adding that state police checked 1,102 accidents in the first four months of the year.

He said 41 lives were lost, 860 persons injured and property damage amounted to more than $680,000 in those accidents.

Bunderson said the accidents "just don't happen" and noted that 1,734 traffic violations were involved in the 1,102 accidents.

Construction of 2 Buildings Set At Arco Project

IDAHO FALLS, July 2—Plans and specifications for the construction of two buildings in the chemical processing plant area at the national reactor testing station will be issued on or about July 3, the Idaho operations office, U. S. atomic energy commission, announced today.

One, a 20-by-40-foot storage building, will be constructed of pumice-block-on-reinforced concrete footings.

In addition, a 20-by-30-foot prefabricated metal-bottle gas storage building will be furnished and erected on reinforced concrete footings and floor slab. No mechanical or electrical services will be required.

Bidders are requested to submit proposals on the entire job, which is expected to cost more than $15,000.

Plans and specifications for the work may be obtained from the U. S. atomic energy commission, Idaho operations office, box 1221, Idaho Falls. Requests should be addressed to the director, division of contracts and supply. A certified check or money order for $10 payable to the treasurer of the United States will be required for each set of documents.

Idaho Girl Faces Murder Charges

DECATUR, Tex., July 2 (U.P.)—A 17-year-old Idaho girl, who convinced police she was telling the truth when she said she killed an unidentified hitch-hiker last summer to get $13, faced murder charges today.

Virginia Pugmire, St. Anthony, Ida., waived preliminary hearing and was held in $5,000 bond.

Police who gave the girl a lie detector test said it indicated she may have some knowledge of another murder. The body of an Oklahoma City waitress was found in the bed of the Canadian river not far from Oklahoma City about the same time the body of the hitch-hiker was found in Texas.

House Boosts Federal Grant In School Aid

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.P.)—The house education and labor committee today approved 28-to-0 legislation to boost federal grants for school construction 123 million dollars above President Eisenhower's recommendations.

The measure would authorize 217 million dollars in appropriations for construction in federally "impacted" school areas. The administration had asked for 94 million dollars for this purpose.

Chairman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., R., Pa., said 95 million dollars of the committee increase would pay off old obligations to school districts which never received grants for which they were eligible because of congressional budget cuts.

The remaining 28 million dollars of the boost results from a more liberal method of calculating future grants than had been recommended by the President.

The bill would revive and revamp a 1950 law under which 241 million dollars in federal funds already has been spent or allotted to [illegible] schools in areas where [illegible] been a sharp increase [illegible] personnel and federal [illegible] Forty-seven states have [illegible] grants. Mishap Leads Author of Traffic's Most Famous Slogan to New Safety Fervor

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—This is a story about a slogan. Many Americans literally may have lived by it.

It probably has been read or heard billions of times, but its full meaning, in personal terms, didn't come home to the author until 30 years after he wrote it.

The slogan:

"Be careful . . . The life you save may be your own."

Robert S. Walstrom, advertising manager of a casualty company, put the words on paper in 1931.

It was a routine chore. He had no inkling it was to become the most popular safety phrase of the postwar period.

His insurance firm planned to distribute stickers to be placed on speedometers, showing the number of feet required to stop a car safely at a given speed. Walstrom, a slender, intense man who starts his work day on four cups of coffee, decided to add a brief message.

Smoking cigarettes in his Chicago office, his thoughts drifted back to a school safety campaign his company had conducted during the late 20s. He recalled a line which had appeared on posters and in newspaper advertisements: "Drive carefully . . . Save a child's life."

Walstrom wanted to revise that to put the emphasis on saving the life of the driver. But why should the driver be careful? He spends out the reason, directed to the powerful instinct of self-preservation: "The life you save may be your own."

The Advertising council made Walstrom's catchy line a major feature of its "stop accidents" campaign it started in 1947. It became the official slogan of the National Safety council.

Since then it has been printed in newspapers and magazines and on billboards, road maps and stationery and has been repeated over and over on radio and television.

There is no record of the number of times it has been read or heard.

"Take any astronomical number in the billions," says an NSC official. "It is the most popular of the 'public interest' slogans."

The results can't be gauged in statistics, but the NSC says:

"It has had a tremendous impact. We believe lives have been saved because of it."

It is being put to work by the U. S. army in Germany, England, Norway and Switzerland.

It is becoming as well known in this country as such top ear-and-eye-catchers as "See America first," "Remember Pearl Harbor" and "Join the navy and see the world."

And it has inspired such take-offs as these:

Sign along a road near the front in Korea: "Drive carefully. The man you hit may be your replacement."

Notice on a church bulletin board: "Come to church. The soul you save may be your own."

Walstrom's enduring plea for careful driving was given an ironic twist in the fall of 1951. His only child, John, then 13, was pedaling his bike to his home near Wheaton. He was struck from behind by a car.

The boy was knocked to the road. His skull was fractured. He lay in a coma between life and death for 12 days.

When the crisis had passed and the lad was on the road to recovery, his dad returned to the ranks of safety promoters with a new fervor.

Walstrom, now a graying, 53, puts it this way:

"Today's safety has much more meaning to me. I have a personal angle."

Motorists Facing Stiff Penalties for Damaging Streets

RUPERT, July 2—Heavy penalties lie in wait for motorists in Rupert who willfully tear up new oil or existing street, Justice of the Peace Frank Friesen said Thursday. He noted approximately 50 blocks in the city recently have been oiled or sealcoated and that damage to them amounts to a misdemeanor with fines up to $300 or six months in jail or both.

Judgment is being withheld on one motorist, Burnell Knight, Rupert, Friesen said, who pleaded guilty to the charge, pending recommendation of the arresting officer.

"We just can't go easy on people who deliberately injure or rut these streets," Friesen said. He added that under new legislation, juvenile motorists may receive the same penalties that apply to adults.

Friesen said that some motorists deliberately "squeal" their tires on new pavement, causing the wheels to gouge out a section of the road, and others make whip turns and sudden stops—just to see the asphalt fly.

JEROME, July 2—Sunday evening services are being sponsored by the Jerome Ministerial association beginning at 8 p.m. in the City park.

Scott's Grand-Slam Homer Helps Magic Valley Topple Sixth Place Boise Yanks

Jim Scott's homerun in the first inning with the sacks loaded, combined with the clutch pitching of Cowboy hurler Jerry Hall, enabled Magic Valley to scramble sixth-place Boise Yanks by a 5-4 count in Jaycee park Wednesday night. Scott's homerun came with Paul Byrne, Charley Cole and Elmer Daley on base. Cole garnering the only hit of the three. With the count 1-0 on Scott the Cowboy centerfielder blasted his second grand slam of the year, 330 feet over the outfield fence to the right of the plate.

Scott's homerun followed one run scored by Len Karp on Cole's single. Karp had blasted the first pitch thrown by Cowboy pitcher Jim O'Reilly into leftfield for a single to open the bottom half of the fat.

Manager Dolph Camilli's club added another run in the second on a single to Karp and bases-on-balls to Cole, Daley and Scott. In the eighth Magic Valley added another insurance tally, Karp scoring again on his walk, a passed ball by Boise catcher Roy Summers, and Byrne's single over the Yank shortstop's head.

The win evened Hall's record at 2-2. He scattered seven Boise hits over six innings, struck out two and gave up only five walks. O'Reilly, with plenty of speed, was continually behind on the batters, giving up eight hits and 12 walks to the victors while striking out 10.

The Yanks came back with one run in the second frame after Tom Scott singled, Bob Kuck was hit in the head and Cowboy shortstop Fallen Deck made the first of his five errors. In the fifth Boise scored again. Pitcher O'Reilly doubled off the leftfield wall and went to third on an error by Cole. Joe Delfino hit into an out at first base, on a throw from the shortstop to O'Reilly scored.

The final two Boise runs came on an error by Cowboy centerfielder Scott. He dropped a deep fly after Delfino and Hall singled. In the ninth Cowboy rightfielder Cole repeated a Yank score when he neared Gott's, curving fly on the outfield line and doubled Delfino in first.

Pitcher Hall extricated himself from a tight spot in the Boise eighth after men were on second and third. Hall struck out Kuck and Summers. Catcher Cy Gonsalves licked King off second base and Summers went to third on the run-down of King. Hall then made O'Reilly and Jim Scott fly out.

Turpin-Olson Bout May Go Indoors

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—The proposed middleweight title fight between England's Randy Turpin and Earl (Hobo) Olson may be fought indoors in Madison Square garden in late August, promoter Jim Norris indicated Tuesday.

Norris said Olson was offered 30 per cent of the net receipts plus the same percentage for any other shares like television, theater-television or movies. Turpin has agreed to the same percentage.

Norris said he told Flaherty the garden could be scaled to gross $725,000. He said however, he has to agree up on the first-set-of-the-fight and that Yankee stadium still was a possibility as a site.

Speedie Jumps Browns for Regina

CLEVELAND, July 2 (AP)—Mac Speedie, the best pass-catcher in pro football, quit the Cleveland Browns Tuesday for the Regina club in the Canadian league.

Coach Paul Brown, who contended Speedie was "jumping" a contract here, said he was undecided whether to take legal action to restrain the 28-year-old left end.

Speedie, a University of Utah star, joined the Browns when they were formed in 1946.

Fourth Ward Wins

Bing Byington limited the Twin Falls second ward to four hits in an 8-1 Twin Falls fourth ward softball victory at Harmon park Tuesday. The fourth ward lashed seven hits in the seven-inning ball game.

OUTLER RELEASED

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—Don Outler, pitcher who posted a record of one win and four losses in 50 innings for the Boise Yankees, has been released, owner Maury Doerr announced.

Fishermen Use Lures As New Streams Open

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—Idaho fishermen, generally confined to worms and salmon eggs thus far, were given a chance to try out their lures Wednesday as high mountain lakes were opened to fishing. In addition, Blaine county's famed Silver creek was opened, but was reported still too "milky" for good fly fishing.

Waters opening Wednesday, according to the fish and game department, included:

Boundary county—Boundary county creek, Priest lakes except Reeder and Bear creeks and Thorofare river.

Elmore—Rainbow, Lookout, Big and Little Trinity, Roaring and Smith Creek lakes. The road to Trinity lakes was reported still closed.

Fremont—All tributaries of Henry's Fork except Stalcy Springs and Hatchery creeks.

Gem—Sagehen reservoir and the tributaries above it and Sagehen creek downstream to the mouth.

Owyhee—Jordan, Riley and Rocker Springs creeks for fishermen under 14 years of age, and Frank Oster lakes on the Hagerman refuge. The latter are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and have a creel limit of five fish.

Idaho—Marshall lake and Lake creek and tributaries downstream to its confluence with the Secesh river.

Kootenai—Wild Lodge creek; all tributaries of Hayden lake.

Valley—Deadwood reservoir and that part of Deadwood river and its tributaries above the reservoir; Boulder, Louie, Blackwell, Rapid, Maki, Duck, Hum, Box, Granite, Squaw, Buck, Brush, Pearl and Summit lakes; the remaining portion of Payette lake, Payette river between Big and Upper Payette lakes, and all tributaries to Payette lake.

Silver Creek Turnout Set At Near 3,000

SILVER CREEK, July 2—Fish were still left after the opening day of angling here saw an estimated 3,000 fishermen try their hand and hook at the muddied stream and its tributaries.

Pat Gaver, operator of the Hayspur fish hatchery at Gannett, believed about 60 per cent of the anglers got their limits during the first day. He said more people fished this year than last year on opening day but fewer fish were caught per person.

State fish and game officials manned a roadblock at the baseline. In addition to the original crew other conservation officers working in the area were Joe Reynolds, Rupert; Lester Trout, Burley; Charles Blake, Jerome; William Dorris, Kimberly; Grover Davis, Filer, and Paul Coulpin, junior fish biologist, and Bob Irving, fish biologist, both Gooding.

It was Bert Barkelew's first game as temporary manager of the Bees. He replaced Eddie Murphy who was relieved of his managerial position Wednesday.

The only hitless inning for the Reds was the sixth.

Pinch Homer Gives Pocatello 9-8 Victory

POCATELLO, July 2 (AP) — Don Cameron's pinch-hit homerun with Mike Camara on base in the last of the eighth inning gave the Pocatello Bannocks a 9-8 victory over the Idaho Falls Russets Wednesday night.

Cameron's round tripper was the third of the game for the Bannocks and climaxed a five-run splurge which saw Pocatello overcome an 8-4 lead.

The home team rally in the eighth started when Dick Sobeck lashed a single and, with one out, Ken Nardinelli drew a pass. Jack Saharagun then cracked a homer good for three runs. Camara then walked, and John Briggs was called in to replace Reno Barbisan on the mound for Idaho Falls. Cameron greeted Briggs with the game-winning homer.

Walt Carmichael also hit a circuit blow for the Bannocks.

Idaho Falls did some homerun slugging of its own. Alnacich got the Russets off to a 2-0 lead with a fence-clearing smash in the first inning, and Phil Staehle powdered one in the fifth with Cuno Barragan on base.

Vic Ghezzi Scores 66 to Lead in PGA

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., July 2 (AP)—Giant Vic Ghezzi fired a near-perfect, five-under-par 66, tying a 20-year-old course record, Wednesday to lead the first round qualifying in the Professional Golfers association tournament.

The six-foot-two, 200-pound pro from Inwood, N. Y., 1941 champion, missed only one fairway on the 18th as he whipped around the tight, par 36-35—71 Birmingham Country club course in 34-32.

The course record was set by Al Watrous two decades ago.

Ghezzi's sparkling round snatched a few brief moments of glory from two rank outsiders—greying, 46-year-old Jimmy Hines of Glenview, Ill., and chubby Jim Browning of Wanlan Mass., who posted 67s within 10 minutes of each other.

Then followed ties at 68, two sharp shooting Southerners—Chandler Harper, home professional from Portsmouth, Va., and Johnny Palmer, a tourist from Badin, N. C.

Snead, a three-time winner, missed an easy 2½ foot putt on the final green to wind up with 69, tied with a pair of veteran campaigners, Pete Cooper and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and little Felice Torza of Lake Charles, Ill., playing in his first PGA.

The phlegmatic Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., although exempt from qualifying, took his swings like the rest and came in with a smart 70, which backed him with nearly a dozen others. Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, had an even par 71.

The final 18 holes of qualifying are scheduled Thursday when the field will be cut from 136 to 63 and the defending champion for match play, beginning Friday.

Representative Introduces Bill To Ban Telecasts

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Representative Herlong, D., Fla., Wednesday introduced a bill which would okay a ban on broadcasts and telecasts of major league baseball games in minor league cities on days that the minor league teams play at home.

The measure is the same as that introduced in the senate by Senator Johnson, D. Colo., and is now awaiting floor action.

Herlong said the legislation does not change any law but approves of the adoption of such a broadcast and telecast ban by the minor league clubs.

He said the proposal is designed to help minor league attendance.

Sox Top Yankee 4-0 for Ninth Straight Defeat

By The Associated Press

Again losing to the Boston Red Sox 4-0 at Boston day afternoon, the league-leading New York Yanks their ninth straight but kept their 5-game lead over dians following Cleveland's loss to the Tigers. In tional league, pace-setting Brooklyn kept its narrow lead over the Braves.

The staggering New York Yankees bowed to Mel Parnell's brilliant four-hit pitching as the Boston Red Sox hammered Johnny Sain for a 4-0 victory.

Slumping ever closer to the clubs they trampled during their recent three-game winning streak, the Yanks hit their lowest ebb since 1945 when they also dropped nine in a row under Manager Joe McCarthy.

The all-time Yankee record of 13 straight defeats in 1913 was within reach as the proud world champs, seeking their fifth successive pennant, roll backward like a runaway locomotive.

Ellis Kinder Gray, posting his third straight victory, snapped the Cleveland Indians' six-game winning streak Wednesday by holding the runner-up American league club to six hits and fanning nine as the last-place Detroit Tigers won 4-2 in Detroit.

Al Rosen's 18th homerun of the season in the first inning with Dale Mitchell on base, accounted for all the Cleveland scoring.

Minnie Minoso's two triples drove across five of 10 runs scored by the Chicago White Sox in two innings for a 14-4 crushing of the St. Louis Browns Wednesday in Chicago.

Minoso's bases-loaded triple spiced a seven-run sixth which sewed up the third-place Chi-Sox' 16th decision in 18 games and moved them to within 5½ games of the collapsing Yankees.

The Washington Senators brought their long-range artillery into play Wednesday night as they defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 5-3 in Philadelphia, blasting out 11 hits—including a pair of doubles, two triples and homers by Wayne Terwilliger and Ed Fitz Gerald.

Terwilliger hit his homer with none on base in the fifth—his third round tripper of the season. Fitz Gerald's, also with no one on the bags, came in the ninth and was his first of the year.

In the National league pinch hitters Roy Campanella and George Shuba slammed run-scoring doubles in the 10th inning to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night at Brooklyn and pinned the season's sixth defeat upon Robin Roberts.

The triumph enabled the first-place Dodgers to retain their half-game lead over the Milwaukee Braves.

Eddie Mathews took over the National league homerun leadership Wednesday as the slugging Milwaukee Brave pounded out a 10-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs at Cincinnati.

The young third baseman hit his 23rd four-bagger in the third inning to break a tie with Ted Kluszewski of the local club.

Sid Gordon and Joe Adcock also hoisted for the Braves to make it easy for southpaw Warren Spahn to win his ninth game against three defeats this season.

Hal Rice's first homerun of the year and a collapse of the New York infield enabled Pittsburgh to nip the Giants Wednesday 5-3, in 11 innings at New York.

CIO, AFL Meat Workers Reach Industry Truce

CHICAGO, July 2 (UP)—CIO and AFL meat workers unions today joined forces to negotiate new contracts with the "big four" meat packers and issued a report on "eventual unity of all labor organizations in one federation."

The significant agreement brought the closest harmony between the two powerful unions, representing about a quarter of a million workers, in the history of the industry.

It was signed by the CIO United Packinghouse workers president, Ralph Helstein and Earl W. Jimerson, president of the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher workmen.

The first result of the agreement was expected to be a quick demand that the packers meet with a joint committee representing both unions to discuss the reopening of current contracts this month for wage and hospitalization adjustments.

hipyards on Coast Closed By Walkouts

SEATTLE, Wash., July 2 (AP) — Thousands of shipyard workers were idle along the Pacific coast today as the result of a strike called by 5,000 AFL machinists demanding a five-cent hourly tool allowance.

The walkout began yesterday morning when the machinists left their jobs at 63 shipyards in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Disregard Order

At least 2,500 workers in other crafts refused to cross the machinists' picket lines in disregard of orders from their own union leaders to stay on the job because of an agreement with employers.

The machinists walked out after rejecting an employer offer to furnish tools or pay the five cents.

Both sides had previously reached agreement on a three-cent hourly wage increase and a seven and one-half cent employer contribution to the union's welfare fund. The machinists are now getting $2.13 an hour.

Resume Work

Five shipyards in Seattle and one in Bellingham, Wash., employing a total of 165 machinists, were picketed briefly. However, they resumed operations when the six yards granted the machinists a straight five cent hourly wage increase.

The strike involved 300 machinists in Seattle, 120 in Tacoma, 600 in Portland and 400 in San Francisco.

Tourist Mecca Viewed at Dam

BRIDGEPORT, Wash., July 2 (AP) — Maj.-Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, chief of the army engineers, said today that Chief Joseph dam will be one of the major tourist attractions of the west when completed as well as one of the world's great power projects.

The general, on a tour of the Pacific northwest, told a meeting of representatives of north central Washington communities the dam and the 51 mile lake behind it will become a mecca for tourists.

He said a similar project with which he was connected in the northwest had been expected to attract 125,000 tourists annually.

Switzerland, four and one half million visitors came to see the project the first year it was completed," he said. "Chief Joseph dam has the same potential."

General Sturgis said the grain fields and orchards of the Bridgeport area give evidence of the value of the project for irrigation as well as power development.

Legislation currently is before Congress to add the irrigation of 70,000 acres of land nearby to the scope of the project, which is being built now only on a power basis.

The engineer chief recalled that his grandfather, also a Major-General Sturgis, had been assigned from the Blackfoot wars to subdue the hostilities against Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce Indians, after whom the project is named.

Officers Seated at Rotary Club Meet

RUPERT, July 2—Kenneth E. Bell, Rupert realtor, succeeded Dr. C. M. Elmore as president of Rupert Rotary club here Wednesday. Oliver Hansel is retiring vice president, while Price D. Sears, secretary, is incumbent. The past president's pin was presented Dr. Elmore by Bell.

Other officers are Carl Warner, vice president; Sears, secretary, and Al Braegger, Don Toolson, Ken Fraser, A. C. Dunlavy and C. M. Elmore, directors, and Sherman Allwood, sergeant-at-arms.

Members voted to construct a float for the July 4 parade.

Party Held

JEROME, July 2—Annual party for Jerome Rotarians and Rotary Anns was held Tuesday evening at the Jerome country club. Dinner at 7 p.m. was served buffet style on the lawn of the club.

Many members played golf before dinner. Frank Reddig was in charge of arrangements. This was the last meeting to be presided over by Herb Hilbaugh, sr., who will turn the gavel over to Verne Thorpe, new president, at the regular meeting of the club, next week.

Blast Rites Held

Complying with the wish of Francis H. Covell, 71, to have his ashes fired from a shotgun over Schome hill in the center of Bellingham, Wash., relatives blasted away at a flight of balloons, upper right with ashes attached. A daughter, Mrs. Florence Covell Custer, with shotgun; grandson Lee, with sither, left; son Cecil and other relatives complete the group. The Chinese robes were an afterthought—Mrs. Custer thought the group should be in costumes. (AP wirephoto)

Bounce

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—A paycheck whisked away by a tornado at Worcester, Mass., and lost for 21 days has been returned to a railroad mail clerk, Charles F. Nowlin.

Rain-streaked but still legible, the check landed 60 miles away at the South Weymouth navy base, near Roxbury, Mass. It was found by John J. Landis, a sailor, and returned to Nowlin.

The twister flattened Nowlin's house.

Polio Toll Eases

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The public health service said today there were 538 cases of polio reported last week as compared to 583 in the comparable week of 1952.

The number did not include a report from Nevada.

The total for the year now stands at 4,057 as compared to 3,566 cases reported in the same period last year.

Contracts Let on Airbase Projects

BOISE, July 2 (AP) — Brig.-Gen. John Walsh, Idaho's military adjutant, said today that contracts totaling $1,220,874 have been awarded for improvements on air national guard facilities at Boise's Gowen field.

J. H. Wise and Son, Boise, was awarded contract in the amount of $804,000 for construction of an airplane hanger, crash truck station, motor vehicle storage shed, a gun harmonization range and taxiways, Walsh said.

Morrison-Knudsen Construction company, Boise, was given a $416,674 contract for lengthening an existing runway by some 1,550 feet.

Theories Rampant in London On Cause of Churchill Illness

LONDON, July 2 (AP)—The favorite guessing game today in London: What's really wrong with Prime Minister Winston Churchill?

There are three theories:

1—Churchill is more gravely ill than has been announced, possibly having suffered something like a nervous breakdown.

2—His illness is a "diplomatic" one to postpone painlessly the Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

3—Things are exactly as stated—Churchill has been overworked and simply needs a good and complete rest.

These are the known facts:

On June 23, a week ago last Tuesday, he presided at a long session of his conservative cabinet. But he did not appear in the house of commons that afternoon and those who wondered why were told that the press of business had kept him at No. 10 Downing street.

Last Thursday morning, another scheduled cabinet meeting was canceled and Churchill went to his country home, Chartwell, in the Kent Hills. That night the names of his Bermuda entourage were announced.

Saturday came the stunning announcement that the Bermuda meeting, set for July 8, was postponed because of Churchill's illness. He was ordered to rest for at least a month. The medical bulletin was signed by Lord Moran, Churchill's regular physician, and Sir Russell Brain, an eminent nerve specialist.

Since then, Churchill has been up and about at Chartwell. Wearing his favorite blue siren suit, he has played with his grandchildren in the garden. Old friends have come regularly to lunch. He has been reported cheerful.

Sunday evening, Churchill's son-in-law and member of commons, Christopher Soames, said:

"His condition is not such that it is likely to deteriorate or improve from day to day. He is simply suffering from general fatigue, which is probably more mental than physical.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Soames, the former Mary Churchill, said in a speech that her father is "grievously over-tired." She added that he had begun to improve with rest and sunshine.

Those who believe that Churchill is more gravely ill than announced include some usually well-informed sources. There are even reports in party circles that he suffered a "brainstorm" and nervous collapse last Thursday morning. There has been no confirmation whatever of this report.

Those who believe that Churchill's illness is diplomatic point to his legendary vitality and his acute sense of history.

They believe he has realized that opinion in the United States is against his pet project of a big four meeting with Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov. They believe he wants to give American public opinion time to ripen.

Mrs. Soames specifically denied theory No. 2.

This known facts support theory No. 3 that as the medical bulletin said and as officials in Whitehall insist, Churchill has overworked. He is seeing his friends, life is reading the more important state papers. It was he who announced the appointment of the Marquess of Salisbury as acting foreign secretary.

Squirrel Jitters Send Telephone Firm 'Squirrely'

LOS ANGELES, July 2 (AP)—Some squirrely squirrels—an estimated 20,000 to 30,000 of them—are driving the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company slightly nuts.

The squirrels cost the company about $20,000 last year in the San Fernando valley.

Jittery squirrels—either adolescent, expectant, or just plain nervous—chew holes in the protective lead sheathing around telephone cables, allowing moisture to interrupt service.

Dick Teague, in charge of his company's fight against the squirrels, said:

"Cable-gnawing seems to be related solely to nervous temperament. Healthy adult squirrels never chew cables."

The only effective defense, "tape-armored" cable, is in short supply and expensive.
